Things to Remember
- Non-profit organizations may be allowed to participate in the Market, at no charge, at the discretion of the Market Advisory Committee and/or its designee. Non-profit organizations may sell products as long as they do not compete with a market vendor and are approved by the committee prior to market day
- No vendor exclusivity.
- The Market Advisory Committee and/or its designee reserve the right to conduct an inspection of the farm, land, processing facility, commercial production space, and/or other source of the products being sold at the Market if deemed necessary. No less than 24-hour notice will be provided.
- The Market Advisory Committee and/or its designee reserve the right to limit varieties and types of products to avoid saturation of the Market or to avoid product inappropriate to the Market.
- The Market Advisory Committee and/or its designee reserve the right to approve exceptions to this rule to ensure variety of offering at the Market.
- The Market Advisory Committee and/or its designee will make the determination of approval or disapproval of all crafts to be sold at the Market. The Committee uses a guideline of 10% of total vendors for arts and crafts, cookie bill, and pickle bill for the Summer Market.
- One stall per market is reserved for a Business Improvement District (BID) business. A BID business wishing to vend at the market must be approved by the advisory committee prior to vending.
- Your stall and the area surrounding it must be kept clean at all times. You are required to remove all garbage from your stall and the Market. Buckets of water are to be dumped in grassy areas only.
- Vendor vehicles must be parked within the allotted stall space. If the vehicle will not fit or the vendor has an additional vehicle/trailer, it must be parked away from the market. Parking spots closest to the market must be kept open for customers.
- Due to the early start, please be a good neighbor and keep noise to a minimum.
- Vendors are required to dress and present themselves in a manner that demonstrates cleanliness, good hygiene, and safe food handling practices.
- Prices charged for products are the sole responsibility of each vendor. Neither the Market Advisory Committee nor its designee will in any way be involved in setting or suggesting pricing.
